Guidelines for reserving conference rooms on the 9th floor:

■ Requestor should contact the ODU Police Dept. (x4000) if making reservations after hours or on the weekend in order to have an officer open the door.
■ Requestor must ensure that all doors are closed and locked when leaving. If the door is unlocked and it is after hours, then you must contact the ODU Police Dept. to lock the door before you leave.
■ The conference rooms can be used for academic meetings, public lectures, and receptions.
■ It is the responsibility of the requestor to set up the room in the manner you would like, and also to ensure that the furniture, etc. is put back in its original setting at the end of your event. This is not the responsibility of the Dean’s Office. Additionally, the room should be left clean and picked up. (Aramark/Monarch Catering will clean up food waste; however the requestor is the person ultimately responsible for the room.)
■ It is the responsibility of the requestor to provide any assistance needed for electronic devices (computer, projection screen, sound, TV, etc.). The Dean’s Office cannot provide technical help. (You may want to consider booking the room early for set-up.)
■ You may copy this form, or find it on the Arts & Letters website under Resources. No reservations will be taken over the phone.
■ The Dean’s Office will reply to your request within 2 days via fax (if you have provided one) or inter-office mail.
■ Dean’s Office meetings and committees reporting to the Dean will have first priority.

Requestor: I certify that I have read the room reservation guidelines, and that this event is consistent with the policies of the College and of the University. I accept responsibility for the room and the attendees, and I will ensure that our department will comply with all university policies. Additionally, my department will be responsible for any damages incurred during the event, and for the room to be returned to its original state.
