College Student Evacuation Behaviors and Risk Perceptions

Saige Hill, PhD candidate in the Public Administration and Policy Program, invites ODU students to participate in a survey about “The Evacuation Behaviors and Risk Perceptions of College Students in Coastal Communities.” The purpose of the survey is to get a better understanding of student experiences with coastal hazards such as storms, hurricanes, and flooding.

Complete a short web-based survey regarding your experiences at ODU. The survey should take less than 30 minutes to complete, and no identifiable information will be collected with responses. Participation is absolutely voluntary.

Enter for a chance to win 1 of 20 $10 gift cards.
