Dr. Means received a B.S. in Psychology from Tennessee State University, an M.S. in Adult Education from North Carolina A&T State University, and an Ed.D. in Educational Leadership from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. Previously, he worked as the Director of Career Services and Employment Services for Delaware State University. Dr. Means has also worked as the Director of the Office of Diversity of Inclusion at Queens University of Charlotte.

Ms. Shelby Meier $38,000 8/25/2019 12 mos
Instructor of Early Care and Education and Assistant Instructor

Ms. Meier received a B.S. in Psychology from Old Dominion University. Previously, she worked as the Lead Assistant Teacher for ODU's Children's Learning and Research Center.

Dr. Ron Moses II $75,000 7/10/2019 12 mos
Associate Athletic Director of Student-Athlete Academic Support Services and Assistant Professor

Dr. Moses received a B.S. in Education from the University of Georgia, an M.S. in Recreation and Sports Administration from Western Kentucky University, and a Ph.D. in Counseling and Student Development from Kansas State University. Previously, he served as the Director of Football Academics for the University of Missouri at Columbia and Assistant Director of Football Academics for Georgia State University.

Ms. Kerri Musick Academic Advisor, College of Sciences and Instructor	$42,167	6/10/2019	12 mos

Ms. Musick received a B.S. in Public Administration and Social Studies from Eastern Michigan University and an M.S. in Higher Education Administration from Pennsylvania State University. Previously, she worked as the Coordinator for Experiential Learning at Christopher Newport University.

Mr. Keith Pierce Director of News and Media Relations and Instructor	$75,000	8/10/2019	12 mos

Mr. Pierce received a B.A. in Communications from La Salle University. Previously, he worked as the Director of Communications and Marketing for the Batten College of Engineering and Technology. Prior to joining ODU, Mr. Pierce was the Public Relations and Marketing Manager for Virginia Tech and President of his own public marketing consulting firm.

Mr. Jacob Reeves Coordinator for LGBTQIA+ Programs and Services, Student Engagement and Enrollment Services and Instructor	$38,000	7/25/2019	12 mos

Mr. Reeves received a B.A in English and an M.A. in Student Affairs Administration from Appalachian State University. Previously, he worked as a Graduate Assistant for the Henderson Springs LGBT Center at Appalachian State University. (new position)

Dr. Preston Reilly Program Coordinator, Student Engagement and Enrollment Services and Assistant Professor	$45,000	7/10/2019	12 mos

Dr. Reilly received a B.A. in Psychology from Bowling Green State University, an M.S. in Higher Education from Florida State University, and a Ph.D. in Higher Education from Old Dominion University. Previously, he worked as a Doctoral Graduate Assistant for the University's Dean of Students Office.

Mr. Aidyn Scott Residential Conduct Coordinator and Instructor	$34,000	6/10/2019	12 mos

Mr. Scott received a B.A. in Communication Studies from Lynchburg College and an M.S.Ed. in Higher Education Administration from Florida International University. Previously, he worked as a Resident Director for Miami University's Office of Residence Life.

Ms. Leslie Sharpe Assistant Director of Administrative Services Housing and Residence Life and Instructor	$50,000	7/10/2019	12 mos

Ms. Sharpe received a B.S. in Communication from East Carolina University and an M.S.Ed. in Higher Education from Old Dominion University. Previously, she was Assistant Director of Undergraduate Admissions.

Mr. Justin Shreve Assistant Director for Residence Education and Instructor	$52,000	6/10/2019	12 mos

Mr. Shreve received a B.A. in Biology from Guilford College and an M.Ed. in Student Personnel Administration from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Previously, he worked as a Hall Director for VCU's Residential Life and Housing division.

Mr. David Shirley Assistant Director of Assessment and Data Analysis, Institutional Effectiveness and Assessment and Instructor	$73,441	6/25/2019	12 mos

Mr. Shirley received a B.S. in Psychology from the University of Georgia and an M.Ed. in Counselor Education from Augusta State University. Previously, he worked as the General Education Assessment Coordinator for Georgia Southern University.

Ms. Adaya Sturkey Residence Hall Director and Instructor	$32,000	7/17/2019	12 mos

Ms. Sturkey received a B.S. in Biology from Hampton University and an M.A. in Global Affairs from Tsinghua University. Previously, she served as an intern for the Residence Life Department at Hampton University.

Dr. Kathreen Tadrous Psychiatrist and Assistant Professor	$200,000	9/10/2019	12 mos

Dr. Tadrous received a B.S. in Chemistry and an M.S. in Biochemistry from Virginia Commonwealth University and an M.D. in Psychiatric Counseling from St. George's University School of Medicine in Grenada. Previously, she worked as a Child and Adolescent Psychiatry Fellow for Rutgers University. Dr. Tadrous is a professional member of both the American Medical Association and the American Psychiatric Association.

Mr. Peter Taylor Assistant Field Hockey Coach and Instructor	$43,281	6/14/2019	12 mos

Mr. Taylor received a B.S. in Sport Administration and an M.Ed. in Sports Coaching from Griffith University in Queensland, Australia. Previously, he worked as a field hockey trainer and coach for the UVic British Columbia team.

Ms. Austin Vick Assistant Director of Admissions and Instructor	$44,877	7/25/2019	12 mos

Ms. Vick received a B.S. in Human Development from East Carolina University and an M.Ed. in Counselor Education from Clemson University. Previously, she worked as the Admissions Coordinator for Campus Guides and the Student Experience at Old Dominion University.

Ms. Bridget Weikel Associate Dean of Students and Instructor	$122,000	8/10/2019	12 mos

Ms. Weikel earned a B.S in Secondary Education from the University of Maryland at College Park and an M.S. in Recreation and Leisure Services from Texas State University. Previously she served as the University's Director of Recreation and Wellness. Prior to joining ODU, Ms. Weikel worked as the Assistant Director of Campus Activities and Recreation Programs for Rider University's Office of Campus Life.

APPOINTMENT OF BATTEN CHAIRS
BATTEN COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING AND TEHCNOLOGY

RESOLVED that, upon the recommendation of the Academic and Research Advancement Committee, the Board of Visitors approves the appointment of the following individuals as Batten Chairs in the Batten College of Engineering and Technology for 2019-2020 through 2023-2024. A summary of each person's career is included below for information purposes.

The purpose of endowed chairs in the Batten College of Engineering and Technology is, "to attract, reward, and retain distinguished faculty members who will provide scholarship and leadership that enriches their department, the College, and the University. Endowed chair/professorship candidates are expected to have an established record of outstanding intellectual achievement in research and education, as measured by scholarly activity, an international professional reputation, and a demonstrated ability for leadership."

Mecit Cetin
Professor of Civil and Environmental Engineering and Batten Chair of Transportation Systems

Dr. Cetin is well qualified for this recognition, with a distinguished record of sustained research in transportation engineering that is recognized internationally and has demonstrated leadership in the College. He is an active and productive scholar who has authored/co-authored 25 journal papers, 37 full papers in peer-reviewed international conference proceedings, and 20 technical reports since 2014. His personal share of research expenditures reported by ODURF is $1.42M for FY15-18.

He is an accomplished instructor in the classroom and is frequently sought by graduate students as advisor/mentor. He currently teaches two undergraduate and five graduate courses. Qualitative comments from his student evaluations consistently indicate he is an effective and supportive instructor, and he has received multiple Shining Star Awards. Dr. Cetin has graduated 6 Ph.D. and 10 M.S./M.E. students since 2014, and 4 additional Ph.D. candidates are anticipated to complete degree requirements by the end of 2019. He has served as member of 27 doctoral and master's committees during 2009-2019, including advising one student at a university in India and ODU students outside his home department at ODU (Computer Science, Physics, and Engineering Management).

Dr. Cetin has been Director of ODU's Transportation Research Institute (TRI) since 2013. The TRI focuses on surface transportation issues, with particular emphasis on transportation operations, intelligent systems, and traffic flow modeling and simulation. As Director, he has established collaborative endeavors with major institutions such as Virginia Tech, University of Virginia, and University of Maryland. He led the initiative to join the consortia of multiple universities and successfully competed for two UTC (University Transportation Center) grants funded by the USDOT, with the resulting ODU budget for these two projects alone exceeding $1.2M.

Dr. Cetin has become an increasingly influential contributor with an international profile, particularly to the Transportation Research Board (TRB), a division of the National Academy of Sciences. He has served as a member of the Committee on Urban Transportation Data and Information Systems since 2011 and was Paper Review Coordinator (Associate Editor) for that Committee during 2015-2018. He became co-chair of the Big Urban Data subcommittee in 2018. He has been a member of the Committee on Artificial Intelligence and Advanced Computing Applications since 2011 and became co-chair of the Education and Outreach subcommittee in 2018. He was the workshop organizer and chair for the 2016 TRB Annual Meeting on Big Data Analytics and Applications: Role of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning, and continued to serve as co-chair in 2017, 2018, and 2019. Dr. Cetin was invited by the American Society of Civil Engineers to serve on their Transportation Safety Committee in 2018, another prestigious indicator of his stature in his profession. He was recognized with a Best Paper Award at the 18th World Congress of International Transportation Systems in 2011. His international reputation is evidenced further by regularly being called upon to serve as a paper reviewer, conference planner, and contributor to several prestigious organizations and conferences, such as the Institute for Electrical and Electronics Engineering and the Pan-American Conference.

Dr. Cetin holds a B.S. in Civil Engineering from Bogazici University in Istanbul, Turkey and an M.S. in Civil Engineering and Ph.D. in Transportation Engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, NY.

For consideration of the appointment of new Batten Chairs in the College, the Interim Dean sent a college-wide invitation for applications. Five faculty submitted materials for consideration. The Interim Dean convened an ad hoc committee comprised of three Endowed Chairs (two from outside the College) and two Eminent Scholars to review all five applications. The ad hoc committee recommended two faculty for the designation, including Dr. Cetin. The Interim Dean and the University Named Chair Committee also endorse his appointment.

Proceeds from the Batten endowment funds will be used to provide a stipend of $25,000 per year to Dr. Cetin in the academic years 2019-2020 through 2023-2024.

Khan Iftekharuddin
Professor of Electrical and Computer Engineering, Associate Dean for Research and Graduate Programs, and Batten Chair in Machine Learning

Dr. Iftekharuddin is well qualified for this recognition, with a distinguished record of sustained and innovative research that is recognized internationally and has demonstrated exceptional leadership in the College. The ODU policy on Named Chairs in the Teaching and Research Faculty Handbook states, "Normally, named chairs do not hold an administrative post such as department chair, Dean or Provost." While Dr. Iftekharuddin currently holds an administrative post, as Associate Dean for Research and Graduate Programs, he is fully engaged in the research, advising/mentoring, and professional service obligations expected of a Professor. In doing so, his achievements exceed what is "normally" expected from a faculty member serving in an administrative post.

Dr. Iftekharuddin maintains his own very active research program, including serving as PI or co-PI on four ongoing funded research projects with two new awards to be initiated this month. He is author/co-author on over 200 publications, with over 4700 citations. He has garnered over $10M in external funding over his career, with a personal share of research expenditures reported by ODURF of $1.67M for FY14-18. His research is highly interdisciplinary, covering psychology (perception), neuroradiology, computer science, and medicine, and his funding agencies are diverse as well, including NSF, NIH, NASA, DoD, DOT, and the Whitaker Foundation. He holds four patents, each with different groups of collaborators, another indicator of the range and breadth of his scholarly outreach, and he has been named Outstanding Researcher at three different universities.

Dr. Iftekharuddin has been a superb teacher, mentor, and advisor who inspires students at the undergraduate and graduate levels in his 7 years as Professor at ODU and over 20 years in higher education. He was named as Most Inspiring Faculty Member by the College's top graduate in 2018. He is currently supervising the research of 8 Ph.D. students and 2 undergraduate students. He has graduated 3 Ph.D, 1 D.Eng, and 4 M.S. students since 2014, and his former students have continued to pursue careers at NIH, Hitachi Research Labs, NASA Langley, and one is a tenure-track faculty member at Tennessee State University. Dr. Iftekharuddin has consistently mentored local high school students and REU students and has several joint publications with undergraduates. In his role as Associate Dean for Research and Graduate Programs, he maintains oversight of the College's graduate programs and research portfolio, as well as oversees Graduate Program Directors and graduate students.

He is an internationally-recognized scholar, evidenced by being recognized as a Fellow of SPIE (the International Society of Photo-Instrumentation Engineering). He is also active in service to his profession through serving as Senior Associate Editor for one journal and Associate Editor for three others. He organizes three symposium/conferences annually and is called upon regularly to serve on review panels for NIH and NSF.

Dr. Iftekharuddin also demonstrated exceptional leadership during his five years as chair of the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering, notably expanding the department to recruit new faculty in emerging areas of research expansion, such as cybersecurity and networking, smart grid and power, and bioengineering. His leadership and commitment to advancement of his own multi-faceted research, while creating new incentive awards for researchers in his role as Associate Dean in the College, is commendable.

Dr. Iftekharuddin holds a B.Sc. in Electrical & Electronic Engineering from the Bangladesh Institute of Technology and an M.S. and Ph.D. in Electrical and Computer Engineering from University of Dayton, in Ohio.

For consideration of the appointment of new Batten Chairs in the College, the Interim Dean sent a college-wide invitation for applications. Five faculty submitted materials for consideration. The Interim Dean convened an ad hoc committee comprised of three Endowed Chairs (two from outside the College) and two Eminent Scholars to review all five applications. The ad hoc committee recommended two faculty for the designation including Dr. Iftekharuddin. The Interim Dean and the University Named Chair Committee also endorse his appointment.

Proceeds from the Batten endowment funds will be used to provide a stipend of $25,000 per year to Dr. Iftekharuddin in the academic years 2019-2020 through 2023-2024.

EMERITUS/EMERITA APPOINTMENTS

RESOLVED that, upon the recommendation of the Academic and Research Advancement Committee, the Board of Visitors approves the title of emeritus/emerita for the following faculty members and faculty administrators/faculty professionals. A summary of their accomplishments is included.

Name and Rank	Effective Date
Beverly Forbes Associate Director Emerita for Experiential Education Programs	September 1, 2019
Loree Heller Professor Emerita of Medical Diagnostic and Translational Sciences	October 1, 2019
Richard Heller Eminent Scholar Emeritus and Professor Emeritus of Medical Diagnostic and Translational Sciences	October 1, 2019
Nancy Rudolph, Community and Student Success Director Emerita, Distance Learning	August 1, 2019
Ronald R. Woodard Director Emeritus of Transfer Services, Distance Learning	August 1, 2019

BEVERLY FORBES

Beverly Forbes received a B.S. in business education and an M.S. in education with a major in guidance and counseling with college student personnel from Old Dominion University. She joined Old Dominion University as a student worker in 1978 and became an administrative assistant in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering in 1979. In 1981, Forbes became the first engineering professional staff academic advisor.

In 2003, Forbes began working in the Career Management Center/Career Development Services as a coordinator, becoming an assistant director in 2004, career liaison to the Batten College of Engineering and Technology in 2005, and associate director of experiential education in 2006. She served as interim director of Career Development Services in 2014 and from 2016 to the present. Forbes received her Global Career Development Facilitator Certification in 2013, and she became a Certified Career Services Provider in 2018. She served on the ODU LeADERS Task Force and the LeADERS Advisory Group.

Forbes was an advisor of the Golden Key International Honor Society for eight years (2007 – 2015) and served as the Region 2 Representative for the Golden Key Council of Advisors for three years (2011 – 2014). She served on the board of the ODU Association of University Administrators (AUA) beginning in 2005, and she served as President of AUA from 2011-2012.

LOREE HELLER

Loree Heller received a B.S. in Microbiology from Oregon State University, an M.S. in Medical Microbiology and Immunology from Long Island University, and a Ph.D. in Medical Sciences from the University of South Florida. Following work as a Medical Microbiologist in New York City and in Tampa, Florida, she carried out postdoctoral studies at the University of South Florida before joining their faculty as a Research Assistant Professor in 1997. She joined ODU in 2008 as an Associate Professor in the Frank Reidy Research Center for Bioelectrics and the School of Medical Diagnostic and Translational Sciences and was promoted to Professor in 2018.

Heller has trained and mentored student research at all levels in her laboratory; high school, undergraduate, Masters, and Ph.D. Her dedication to teaching and education is illustrated by her development and direction of undergraduate courses in the Medical Laboratory Sciences Program while maintaining an active and well-funded research program. She has been an active faculty participant on many key committees for the University and the College of Health Sciences, including the Institutional Biosafety Committee, the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee, the College of Health Sciences Inclusive Excellence Committee, and the College of Health Sciences Research Council, which she chaired. Heller has been heavily engaged in community service activities, including service as chief judge at the Virginia State Science and Engineering Fair and hosting tours of her research lab by high school and middle school students.

In addition, Heller is an outstanding and highly regarded scholar and researcher. Her research interests include DNA electroporation and gene therapy methods, as well as their associated inflammation pathways. She holds six US patents, all issued while at ODU. Heller has served on grant review panels for the NIH and is a manuscript peer reviewer for many high-impact journals; in addition, she has made 18 presentations of her own research at scientific meetings and invited seminars. Heller has published over 50 peer-reviewed papers, over half since joining ODU. Her lab has been consistently well-funded at ODU, receiving over $1.5M in grants as Principal Investigator and four grants totaling $2.8M as Co-investigator.

RICHARD HELLER

Richard Heller received a B.S. in Microbiology from Oregon State University, an M.S. in Health Sciences from Long Island University, and an M.S. and a Ph.D. in Medical Sciences from the University of South Florida. Following Postdoctoral work at the University of South Florida, he joined their faculty as an Assistant Professor in 1990. Heller rose through the ranks to Associate Professor in 1996 and Professor in 2002, serving in key leadership positions as Director of the Division of Surgical Research, Co-director of the Center for Molecular Delivery, and Co-director of the Florida Center of Excellence for Biomolecular Identification and Targeted Delivery. He joined Old Dominion University in 2008 as Director of the Frank Reidy Research Center for Bioelectrics and Professor of Medical Diagnostic and Translational Sciences. He continued his outstanding research, teaching, and scholarship, receiving the Frank Reidy Award for Outstanding Contribution to the field of Bioelectrics in 2013, ODU Eminent Scholar designation in 2014, and the ODU Faculty Research, Scholarship, and Creative Achievement award in 2018. In 2019, Heller received the Outstanding Contribution to Bioscience in Virginia Award from Virginia Bio for his work at ODU.

Heller has trained and mentored nine Ph.D. students as major or co-major professor, along with eight postdocs and many undergraduate researchers and medical resident researchers. He serves on numerous distinguished scientific advisory panels for both government (including NIH and Department of Defense) and biotech companies (including OncoSec Medical and Eccrine Systems, Inc.), and has made over 100 presentations at scientific meetings and invited seminars.

Heller's biomedical and bioelectrics research combines basic studies towards the understanding of cancer and cardiovascular disease with the development of treatments for these diseases using biotechnology approaches including gene therapy and vaccines. He holds 33 US patents, 18 of which were issued since joining ODU, and has published over 125 peer-reviewed articles, including about 50 at ODU. His lab has consistently maintained a very high level of extramural funding for his research, receiving 21 grant and contract awards totaling over $16M since coming to ODU in 2008.

NANCY RUDOLPH

Nancy Rudolph, Community and Student Success Director with the Office of Distance Learning, received a Master of Science in Education-Counseling/Student Development in Higher Education and a Bachelor of Science in Recreation Administration from Radford University. She joined Old Dominion University in 2000 as the Site Director for the Old Dominion University Distance Learning Site at Lord Fairfax Community College at the Middletown and Fauquier campuses. Prior to coming to ODU, Rudolph served as Student Services Specialist at Lord Fairfax Community College.

Rudolph served as an efficient and effective academic advisor and student support provider for students attending ODU from a distance through various technologies during her years of service. She effectively managed an advising caseload of approximately 300 students in nine majors in the College of Arts and Letters. She successfully co-mentored a new advisor and worked collaboratively with her advising team and colleagues to proactively develop and deploy information to students through creative channels. Rudolph built and maintained relationships with community college administrators, faculty and staff that strengthened ODU's partnership in that western Northern Virginia region.

RONALD WOODARD

Ron Woodard served in the U.S. Army from 1980-1992. He received a B.S. in Business Management from the University of Maryland, University College (European Division) and an M.Ed. in Human Development from Northeastern University during his military service. After leaving the military, Woodard began working with Norfolk State University, providing support to the naval bases in Norfolk. This was followed by employment with St. Leo University, working at the same naval bases.

Woodard began his employment with Old Dominion University in 1997 as a Site Director at Mountain Empire Community College within the Office of Distance Learning. After three years, he was promoted to Regional Director, and later, took the role of Site Director at Paul D. Camp Community College. Woodard began working on ODU's main campus in 2010 in his final role of Director of Transfer Services with the Office of Distance Learning. He provided advising support to distance learning advisors; advised students on multiple degree programs; served on numerous search committees and a number of advising committees; and served as liaison to students at Paul D. Camp Community College and other community colleges in the Virginia Community College System.

APPROVAL TO RENAME THE OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS THE CENTER FOR GLOBAL ENGAGEMENT

RESOLVED that, upon the recommendation of the Academic and Research Advancement Committee, the Board of Visitors approves renaming the Office of International Programs the Center for Global Engagement effective July 1, 2020.

Rationale: In the past few years, multiple universities, both large and small, have embraced the term "Global Engagement" instead of "International Programs" or "International Office." These latter terms are now considered too limiting because they encouraged a belief that global activity is entirely academic, always international, particularly administrative, and/or doesn't value the home campus or region. The terms can also be simply inaccurate. For example, ODU has recently joined many other universities in administering "study away" programs and has initiated community projects in Hampton Roads.

In our educational sector, "Center for Global Engagement" is perceived as more relevant and more welcoming. It is also seen as more inclusive. This has been the sentiment of a number of universities (e.g. James Madison University, Longwood University, and Radford University) that have retitled their departments. Others in the Commonwealth such as the University of Virginia, VCU, and Virginia Tech, while not using the exact title, "Center for Global Engagement," nonetheless use Global/Global Engagement as the standard nomenclature for their activities.

Outside Virginia, the list of universities with Centers for Global Engagement (or very similar titles) is long and includes California Lutheran, CUNY, Duquesne, Florida International University, Florida State, Indiana State, Georgetown, Gonzaga, North Carolina State, San Francisco State, SUNY, Syracuse, Texas Tech, UC Berkeley, the University of Denver, the University of Mississippi, and the University of Utah. In fact, this is a trend throughout the world, a typical example being University College Dublin.

It is important to note that while "Global" resonates in many powerful ways, "international" and "internationalization" are both still in common use in our sector where there is a sense of "adding on" to USA perspectives or being different from them. Thus, we still talk of "internationalizing the curriculum," "international students," and "international partners." At the same time, even here there is academic and practical movement towards the use of the word "global."

Renaming the Office of International Programs as the Center for Global Engagement will change not just the title but perceptions, both in and out of the unit, of the nature of our mission here at ODU. It will resonate better with ODU faculty and staff, domestic students, and the education community in the USA. It will also meet the expectations of international applicants and institutions that are coming to expect that "Center for Global Engagement" characterizes an institution that is in the vanguard rather than lagging behind.
